Background

EDF members and Amazon accessibility experts are coming together to share experiences and discuss Amazon's latest developments regarding accessibility.

Amazon has already taken significant steps to make its devices and digital services accessible to persons with disabilities. In this webinar, organised jointly between EDF and Amazon, we will understand more about how Amazon approaches accessibility, how it has achieved an improvement in its products and services for persons with disabilities, and how it plans to continue doing so.

Accessibility is not simply about compliance with relevant laws and standards. It is an ongoing process that requires feedback and meaningful involvement with the users, especially persons with disabilities and their representative organisations.

Civil society organisations, including EDF members, have a very important role to play in making accessibility a reality. Join us and be part of the change.

Join our conversation with Amazon and let's make accessibility a reality for all.
